Summary

I am skilled in frontend development with a strong foundation in creating responsive, user-friendly web interfaces using modern technologies. Alongside coding, I have a solid background in graphic design and motion graphics, allowing me to craft visually engaging digital experiences. My combined expertise in development and design enables me to bridge the gap between aesthetics and functionality, delivering seamless, interactive, and visually compelling user experiences. Eager to grow and collaborate, I'm always looking for opportunities to learn, innovate, and contribute to impactful projects.
